The Summer Academy will be conducted in English and German

July 11. - 15. 2010, Bern, Switzerland

ICP

Institute for Conflict Transformation and Peacebuilding

(formerly IICP Switzerland)

Politics creates structures that define the framework for human interaction. A lot of skill is required to create these structures in a way to meet everyone's needs. Otherwise these structures might turn into sources of violent conflict.

This year's Summer Academy takes a look at the different dimensions of political means for non-violent conflict transformation. Lectures and workshops feature renowned experts who offer different angles on this year's theme.

As usual there will be plenty of opportunities for professional networking and for presenting projects of the participants.
