

ACCA trainings' schedule for June 2014 exam

PwC's Academy

Why study for the ACCA qualification with PwC's Academy?

Extensive experience in delivering the ACCA courses across a number of regions has enabled the Academy to develop an effective study program in response to both the students' needs and the employers' requirements.

- Learn from our tutors - PwC professionals
- Achieve the best results with our unique study program ACCA Advantage
- Receive support for your studies from our dedicated and experienced coordinators

Our commitment to the quality of the courses, study materials and student support is demonstrated best by the results of our students who have been constantly achieving above-average pass rates across the regions.

PwC Georgia Academy students pass rate is 73%

Why choose the ACCA qualification?

Holding the ACCA qualification sends a clear message to both your employers and colleagues – you are committed to the highest standards of service and professional ethics. Therefore, the qualification will help you achieve faster career development.

The ACCA qualification is recognised globally.

As part of your ACCA studies, you will learn to understand and master all the processes involved in how a business or financial organisation works. This means that the ACCA program is not just for accountants. Members have the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in other areas such as business consulting, taxation, IT, strategic planning, and general management.

Foundation in Accountancy

(FIA* – F1, F2, F3) is the set of entry – level awards developed by ACCA, with employers in mind, according to their needs and expectations. This suite of qualifications will provide you competent and ethical accounting technicians, trained to consistent standards, with built-in flexibility to allow skills to be tailored to meet different business needs and environments. After completion FIA students will be awarded with Diploma in Accounting and Business.
