

International Conference
The Theme of Medea in the Artistic Culture of the World

The Institute of Classical, Byzantine and Modern Greek Studies, established in 1997 at Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University through the unification of the Chair of Classical Philology and the Centre of Mediterranean Studies, is celebrating its 10th anniversary. The Institute is intending to mark the jubilee by holding an international conference on The Theme of Medea in the Artistic Culture of the World on September 17-21, 2017. The event will gather representatives of literature and art together with researchers.

Those willing to participate in the conference are kindly requested to submit the following information to greekstudies@tsu.ge before March 15, 2017:

Personal information (first name, last name), affiliation and position (title), contact details (telephone, mailing address and email); type of presentation (conference paper, performance or exhibition), title and a brief summary (no more than 300 words).

The Organizing Committee will provide additional information to shortlisted applicants before April 30, 2017.

The conference welcomes professors, researchers and students from all the three academic levels.
